

PLANNING FOR CYCLING IN LONDON AS A PORT CITY

History

- ▶ London was a port long before it became the capital of England. While London as the capital is founded on its success as a port, because ports bring commercial, financial and social growth.

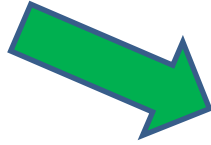

- ▶ All along the river were docks, wharfs and industry and from the first world war until the 1960's workers cycled and walked to these locations.
- ▶ As cars and freight vehicle levels grew the areas became less and less cycle and pedestrian friendly.

Today

Future

THE MAYOR'S VISION FOR CYCLING IN LONDON
for Olympic Legacies for all Londoners

MAYOR OF LONDON Transport for London

